The Backroads of Brown County

Each October, when the landscape is dressed in its finest colors, a select group of Brown County artisans open their studios to visitors. A visit to this flourishing art community will pique your interest in arts and crafts, the creative process and the distinctive studio environment of working artists.

This free, self-guided tour is a grassroots event made possible by the artists involved. Visit one or all of the working studios and take home your own piece of Brown County from The Art Colony of the Midwest™, still thriving after 100 years.
